busy with motor cars that they haven't time for bables" It has set folks thinking.

New York city has looked into the matter and finds it doesn't apply to them. New York, state all the way through makes similar returns, Buffalo, Utica. Albany, Rochester, Syracuseall declare the birth rate increase to surpass the increase in autos.

In New Haven the rigs seemed running exactly opposite.

A year ago there were 800 autos owned by New Haven people. Now there are a thousand (and that means one to every 160 people, a pretty good record). In 1903 there were 3.712 births in the city. Last year the number reached 3.656, and for five months in 1910 the advent of 1.500 little ones has been registered in the city hall.

ST. SWITHIN'S DAY INDICATES CONTINUATION OF DROUGHT. Rain is Much Needed Everywhere, but None is Promised.

It begins to look as if we were in for a drought, for you know

"St. Swithin's day, if he be fair, For forty days 'twill rain no mair." Friday was just another /uch day a those since the first of the week. With a temperature of 80 and over all through the morning, there came a 12-mile southwest breeze to keep the air mile southwest breeze to keep the air moving the entire east, along the coast, so it dossn't look as if St. Swithin had any interest in us.

Perhaps it was because he was an Englishman, and so doesn't care much for us this side of the Atlantic. When Swithin was alive there wasn't any American or Boston tea parties, or Concords, even if there were surreys. The old gentleman resided in Winchester, you will remember, and when chester, you will remember, and when they buried him under the eaves of the cloister he got all the dripping rain-drops. He was the bishop of Winchester, and the people thought they'd do him a favor by burying him in the churchward. Then the largend is it. churchyard. Then, the legend is, it began to rain, and the bishop caused it to be known that he hated the water. Perhaps that's why he has become known as the patron saint of drunk-ards, outside of his fair weather pro-clivities. At any rate, he announced that if he wasn't moved it would rain for 40 days, and it did. Then they moved him, and the legend embodied in the rhyme went into effect the rhyme went into effect.

The question of rain is rapidly be-coming a serious one, and unless rain-fall comes soon there promises to be serious curtailment of the water sup-but the farmers are beginning to get nervous. Hay is all right, but when the wells fail from day to day and the springs in the pasture lots dry up there begins to be much thinking on the part of the truck gardener and the man who needs the rain for his Sep-tember cross. Such is the case new

MRS, BAIN EXAMINED AND TAKEN TO HOSPITAL Accompanied There by Selectman Lillibridge on Friday Afternoon.

Following the session of the city court on Friday morning there was a conference between Chief Murphy and Judge Brown at which it was decided that the condition of Mrs. Nora Bain should be examined into, and such was made later by Drs. Brophy and Harper. It was decided that she was not sound mentally, and during the afternoon First Selectman Lillibridge took her to the institution. Five years ago this summer she was at the institution but since then she has been in this city. Since the fire which destroyed the barn on the Lillibridge farm it is stated that she has displayed more than the usual nervousness.

Burned by Steam.

New Haven.

The auto is beating the stork in New Haven. Automobile owners are increasing and baby owners decreasing. There is no getting away from the facts. The increase in autos last year was 25 per cent. The decrease in the birth rate, approximately, two per cent.

Originating in Kansas, the question has swept the land: "Are wives so busy with motor cars that they haven't time for babies." It has set folks thinking.

Burned by Steam.

James Nevins, who is a widower living on Thames street with his family of three small children, was scriously burned by steam on Thursday afternoon at the Uncas paper mill plant. He was employed in the beater room. The steam burned his arm, face, neck and he had a narrow escape from an even worse injury. Dr. J. J. Donohue treated the burns.
